

NEC Native Education College is a large private Indigenous college in Vancouver and works with First Nations and Aboriginal organizations to deliver programs in locations throughout British Columbia. NEC works to strengthen Indigenous communities by offering programs that lead to employment and higher learning. We strive to combine academic excellence with a strong commitment to First Nations community-based education and the best practices of adult education. At NEC, we are grounded in our Longhouse values of Diversity, Respect, Gratitude, Understanding and Accountability; these are qualities we seek in a successful candidate. We seek casual, contract instructors to teach courses in one or both IECE Certificate and Diploma programs. Please refer to our website for more program information: www.necvancouver.org

The instructor will report to the Indigenous Early Childhood Education Program Manager regarding student progress and course delivery. The instructor is required to provide student support, teach at least one course, and assist with curriculum development and planning, including online Moodle development and other duties as assigned.
